RE: MUSIC TUITION 2016 - 2017

Dear Parents,

Eynesbury has a very strong musical tradition of which we are very proud, and all children study music as part of the National Curriculum. In addition, it is possible for your child to undertake private instrumental tuition during school hours, with one of our independent music teachers. This tuition is chargeable as it is outside of the National Curriculum.

These are the following instruments which are available to learn:

Please consider carefully the commitment required to learn a musical instrument. It will require regular practice, application and determination, particularly in the early stages when producing the right sound is not always easy. Your support is essential in order for your child to make the most of this opportunity.
